Want Railroad to Timber Regions.

At a meeting in Rutland recently between the Rutland railroad officials and the representatives of southern Vermont lumber owners, to discuss the question of building a road from Manchester to the timber districts in the northern part of this and Bennington counties nothing definite resulted. The railroad company made a proposition to the landowners. No action will be taken upon it until another meeting which will be held September 4. Among those persons present at the meeting were Clarke C. Pitts, who represented the timber owners, Livingstone Cushing, and Fremont H. Wright of Boston, and several representatives of the Griffith holdings. The Central Vermont Railway Company has also made a proposition to the landowners in regard to a branch road to the timber districts, and the people of Windham county are naturally desirous that the traffic come in that direction. At present it is understood that the Rutland railroad offer is a trifle more advantageous, but those in a position to know are firm in the belief that the Central Vermont will not let slip this opportunity to get a large amount of new business.

Lyndonville's New Library.

The Lyndonville committee in Lyndonville have at last decided on a plan for the Cobleigh library building, and ask for bids to be sent in for the work, up to August 21. The plan selected is for a building 53 feet front on Depot street and 31 feet deep. It is to be built of brick on a granite foundation, with granite trimmings, and copper roof. There will be a porch on Depot street opening into a wide lobby running back two-thirds the width of the building. This will contain the card catalog and librarian's desk. On the right will be the reading and reference room and on the left a room for children and a librarian's room, while the stack room will run across the south end of the building, 17 feet wide. This plan may be modified somewhat before the contract is drawn. The architect is William J. Maynard of New York city.

THE POWER OF STEAM.

Many May See But It Takes Genius to Realize.

When James Watt saw the steam causing the kettle lid to jump up and down he said "There must be power in that steam that it can lift such a weight."

There was. Millions prior to him had seen the same phenomenon and regarded it as an unexplained mystery. Recent scientific research has put it finger on the "cause" of the steam, the falling hair, and consequent baldness, and has unearthed a tiny germ which eats the life from the roots of human hair. Newbro's Herpicide destroys this germ and consequently restores the hair to its natural state. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

ELECTRIC PROPERTY SOLD.

Rutland Street Car and Power System Bought by Two New York Men.

Rutland, August 21.—Receivers for the Rutland Street Railway Company and the Chittenden Power Company of Rutland, whose securities were sold by Receiver Douglas Robinson of the Merchants' Trust Company Friday, explained Saturday that the sale was a matter of routine to clear the companies involved from connection with the affairs of the Merchants' Trust Company, which held securities aggregating $425,000 to cover bond issues. Leo S. Wise, who was one of the purchasers of the securities, is already a bondholder in the companies, according to Mr. Fox, and the sale will make no change in the management. The proceedings will not have the effect of removing the Rutland receivership, for the present at least, as there are bondholders in the Rutland companies, besides those figuring in Friday's transaction, whose interests have not yet been adjusted.
